Dear Norman

Will I don't know exactly what to say. Norman you know you are really tops with me and always will be. I have never had so much fun as I have had this year, when I was going with you. Ever since you started to school here we have had a lot of fun to gether. Remember our history class, when Mr. King was teaching us and we both failed one six weeks. I never forget Bonnie's party, when I had to ask you to dance, I think that was our first date. I shall never forget. Norman I really had a lot of fun the nite I came down there to see you, when you nearly scared me to death with your driving. Well I guess I have said enough for now. Norman may you have the best of luck and happiness always, because you are the kind of boy that deserves it most. Be sweet and remember me always.

Lane.

Dedication

It is with pleasure and the hope that this annual will always be a symbol of your high school days and what they meant to you that we, the Caprock annual staff dedicate the 1950 edition of the Caprock to you — the Students of Post High —

The quiet, routine people of the school:
The meek ones who inherit from the earth
What no one really wants, yet with their portion
Purchase from life the limit of its worth.
Those who play secret parts in the public play—
Drawers of curtains, shifters of the scene,
All money raisers in noble class causes,
All human bolts in every big machine.
Chairmen of programs, scrubbers of school floors
By night that some may know the dawn's clear tread,
Sellers of papers down the day-long street,
The cleaner-uppers when the crowd has fled.
All water carriers at football games,
Bakers of cakes for charity bazaars,
All brothers of a brother, and eyes that glow
For having helped another reach the stars.
The checkers-in and checkers-out of tickets,
The also-rans, the all who had no place,
And every sub-chairman of sub-committees.
God bless them all, for by their unsung grace,
High moments poise upon a tip of time,
And over their sure tracks great wheels run free;
Without whose patient power each shaft of glory
Flooding our eyes might never, never be!

SPORTS

Post Antelope

Coached by Bing Bingham and Jess Wright

The Antelopes started off the 1949 season with a riproaring game with the Ralls Jackrabbits. First the Antelopes scored then the Jackrabbits scored and the game ended with the scoreboard reading 13-13 tie.

The next week the Antelopes met the Floydada Whirlwinds at the Whirlwind stadium at Floydada, Texas. The stadium was muddy and fumbles were galore. Until the third quarter the Antelopes led 7-6. In the fourth quarter the Whirlwinds made a touchdown and the ball game ended 12-7 in Floydada's favor.

The Antelopes next game was a conference affair with the Seagraves Eagles. The Eagles came to Post and played the Antelopes in beautiful football weather. The Antelopes scored first and held the lead until the final whistle. The score read, Antelopes 19, visitors 6.

The Antelopes met the O'Donnell Eagles the next week and this was also a conference game. Babb skirted end for 12 yards and a touchdown. Cash ran through the center of the line for another TD. Wade ran through the center of the line for another score. Kirkpatrick intercepted a pass and scored from the 1 yard line. Kirkpatrick gave Rex King a hand-off for another score. Roy Wade intercepted a pass and lateraled to Cash who ran 55 yards for another score. Odom scored the last TD on an eighteen yard end-round play. The final score read, Post 56, O'Donnell 7.

The next weekend the Antelopes met the Snyder Tigers at Snyder. On one of the off days for Post, this was it! The air was so full of dust that you could not breathe, and I don't see how the Antelopes could thrash out the 13-7 victory but they did.

The next game was with our old rivals, the Tahoka Bulldogs, which was a conference tilt. This game was a home-coming for the Bulldogs and the Exes. Before 2000 fans the Bulldogs were humiliated by the score of 70-0 in favor of the Post Antelopes. I won't bother to tell who made the scores for there were too many of them.

The following weekend the Antelopes were hosts to the Levelland Lobos of the northern half of District 4A. In this game the Antelopes were ahead at the half 12-0. But in the last half the Lobos made three touchdowns that proved too much for the Antelopes and the game ended in Levelland's favor--20-12.

Get a Tiger! Get a Tiger! Get a Tiger! is all you could hear the week after the Crosbyton game because the following week Post and Slaton would play for the district championship of District 4A South. On the afternoon of November 11th, the game was begun. At the half neither team had scored. Midway in the third period Slaton scored on an eighty yard run around their right end. The try for extra point was good and Slaton led 7-0. In the fourth period after nearly driving the Tigers crazy on passes, Kirkpatrick connected one with Cash who stepped over for a touchdown. Try for extra point failed and Slaton won the district championship by the score of 7-6.

The Post girls' team wound up their basketball season at the district 18B tournament which was held in Spur, Texas.

In the first game Post met Jayton and defeated them 18 to 16. In the next game Post defeated Lorenzo 15 to 14. Post won over Lockett in the next game, making them winners of their bracket. In the final game of the tournament Post was defeated one point by a strong Lockney team, giving them position as second team in District 18B.

The Post boys' team won top honors in the South half of District 4A by beating O'Donnell, Tahoka, Seagraves, and Slaton twice each. Their 1949 basketball season was ended at Sundown where they were beaten in the District Tournament by Sudan, then again by Levelland.
